President's Message

Annual Reports are by their nature retrospective; the past year has been tough and challenging for everyone across the globe due to pandemic which induced lockdown. The staff of Legal Cell for Human Rights (LCHR) provided many services to the poor and the needy. They have conducted many awareness programmes through webinars and other electronic means of communication during the lockdown period. I can proudly say that even when everyone was restricted to move out of their homes, the staff of LCHR were thinking of what can they provide to the society. It is when they came up with the 'Training Module on Child Rights'. I present to you the Annual Activity Report of LCHR for 2020-2021. LCHR ORGANIZATIONAL STRUCTURE

IMPACT STORIES

Experience as a successful District Coordinator

I am Arun Kumar, a trained Para-Legal Person (PLP), presently serving as North Lakhimpur district coordinator. I have been receiving training from Legal Cell for Human Rights (LCHR) since 2017. I have acquired legal knowledge on land laws, women rights, child rights, etc. LCHR had disseminated advocacy skills through which I am able to work for the people in the grass root level and have stood against violation of human rights. I have rescued five minor girls who were being trafficked and two minors from child marriage. Therefore, I would like to sincerely express my heartfelt gratitude to the LCHR team for their constant guidance and support. And I hope to grow more by serving the society and preserve human rights.

Experience as a successful Para-Legal Person (PLP)

I, Atuwa Urang, belong to a lower class family of Khariyagaon in Tinsukia. Prior to attending training on 'Para-Legal and Advocacy Skills', organized by LCHR, I had witnessed lots of problem faced by my villagers. I was not much confident to solve their problems. I did not have any knowledge about Public Distribution System, The Mahatma Gandhi National Rural Employment Guarantee Act 2005 and The Plantations Labour Act 1951. Being a PLP trained by LCHR, I helped many people to get residential certificates from village headman, helped to open bank accounts and helped in filing applications under the provision of the Right to Information Act 2005. I am grateful to LCHR for selecting me as a PLP.

I am Jiten Xalxo, PLP of Bajaloni T.E. Tinsukia. My father Mr. Jitrai Xalxo is working in the tea garden. Prior to training on 'Para-Legal and Advocacy Skills', I was not aware about rights and entitlements of a citizen. For the first time I heard about the provisions of The Mahatma Gandhi National Rural Employment Guarantee Act 2005 and The Right to Information Act 2005. After attending the training programme, I went to Tengapani Gaon Panchayat to know about welfare schemes for ward no. 05. I met the president of the panchayat and asked him what schemes were going to be implemented at ward no. 05. He told me that the panchayat had submitted proposals for construction and repairing of roads. He also told that he would inform me when he receives order from the higher authority. Further, the president requested me to bring the villagers to panchayat office to know about Government schemes. I am grateful to the Director of LCHR for his initiative and support.

Internship Experiences

I am Mongna Konyak. W, pursuing my LL.B. (Hons) at NEF Law College, Guwahati. I joined Legal Cell for Human Rights (LCHR) as an intern on 16th February 2021 and from there on it was an exceptional five weeks journey. I got to learn new things not only expanding knowledge from books but also through activities like typing and arranging documents to obtain minority status certificate under The National Commission for Minority Educational Institutions Act 2004 and making posters on child rights. The staff members were friendly, supportive and always willing to help in every possible way. As a whole I learned a lot. I would like to thank the Director of LCHR for giving me such a wonderful privilege.

I am Hivi H. Awomi, pursuing my BBA LL.B. (Hons) at NEF Law College, Guwahati. I would consider interning at LCHR a blessing and I would love to share my five weeks of fruitful experience. During my internship period I had visited Sessions Court, Chief Judicial Magistrate Court and Central Bureau of Investigation which helped me to learn the procedures of the courts. I am grateful to the Director and the staff of LCHR for guiding and giving me a chance to learn professional skills.

I am Valentina Vilabeno Thanyu pursuing LL.B. (Hons) at NEF Law College, Guwahati. I felt privileged to have interned at LCHR for five weeks. It had been rewarding and wonderful experience that allowed me to gain knowledge in the field of law. The overall vibe of the organization was relaxed and easy going but when it came to completing projects the staff were goal oriented professionals.

COMBATING CHILD LABOUR IN TEA GARDENS THROUGH INFORMATION, EDUCATION AND LEGAL AWARENESS

PROJECT GOAL

The goal of this programme is to eradicate child labour and prevent child trafficking from tea gardens by setting up of Supplementary Education Centres (SECs). The said goal is being achieved through disseminating information, giving education and organizing legal awareness in seven districts (North-Lakhimpur, Biswanath, Udalguri, Nagaon, Golaghat, Dibrugarh and Tinsukia) of Assam.

The SECs plays much larger role than just providing academic support. Through SECs a conducive and safe atmosphere for study cum revision to the school-going children up to age group of 14 years (std. I to VIII) is provided. These centres are aimed to support the parents in protecting their children while they are away working and perform important activity of helping the children with their studies, which the parents may not be capable of doing. The one hour of intense learning and revision in SECs has certainly prevented children from going to work as child labourers. The text books followed are those given to students in Government schools. The students are guided by an instructor of the concern area. Accordingly 54 SECs have been set up by LCHR.

ACTIVITIES CARRIED OUT UNDER THIS PROJECT

Training Programme: Two training programmes were organized for the Instructors of Supplementary Education Centres (SECs). The first training programme was on 'Child Rights and Monitoring Skills' at Mancotta-Dibrugarh and at Kharghuli-Guwahati from 16th to 18th November 2020 and from 16th to 18th December 2020 respectively. Ranjit Kujur (Principal of St. Xavier's Junior College Balipara)', 'Role of Child Rights Committee taken by Fr. Thomas Barla (Director- Gana Chetana Samaj Tezpur)', 'Issues relating to child labour with special reference to tea gardens of Assam taken by Mr. Adam R Marak' and 'Child Marriage and its adverse effects on society with relevant laws taken by Mr. Gyandeep Topno'.

There were around 70 participants and similar programme was held at Missa T.E. Girja Line, Nagaon on 9th March where 60 participants gathered. On 8th March, street play on 'child marriage', with the theme 'child marriage a curse to the society', was performed as a part of awareness programme at Amlakhi T.E. Bali Basti, Nagaon on the occasion of International Women's Day. The purpose of the programme was to give public awareness to the people regarding child marriage, its ill effects on the society and children. A total of 30 children including SEC Instructors participated in the street play.

Formation of Child Rights Committees: Legal Cell for Human Rights (LCHR) has trained the instructor of the SECs to form Child Rights Committees in their respective villages/lines of tea gardens. This initiative is taken to protect violation of child rights. The committees so formed would monitor the migration of children from their area. Out of 54 SECs 08 have formed Child Rights Committees in their respective areas.
